CALIFORNIA DEMANDS

That the Slayer of Judge Terry be Given Up for Trial.

A NUMBER OF LEADING LAWYERS

Listen to the Arguments Before the Supreme Court on

THE OLD QUESTION OF STATE RIGHTS.

Pan-American Delegates Invited to Take a Tour

Through the South. Counsel representing the State of California vesterday argued before the Supreme Court that Marshal Nagle should be tried in the courts for the killing of Judge Terry. Attorney-General Miller and Rufus Choate replied on behalf of the Government, alleging that the claim was a revival of the doctrine of State rights. WASHINGTON, March 4.- The Supreme Court chamber was filled throughout the four hours of the session of the court today with an audience which listened attentively to the arguments of counsel in the Nagle case, arising out of the shooting of David Terry, in Lathrop, Cal., last summer, when he was in the act of committing an assault on Justice Field, of the Supreme Court. All the Justices were present except Justice Field. Seated within the bar were ex-Secretary Bayard, ex-Postmaster General Dickinson, Senator Hoar, Evarts ing patriotic songs as they tacked down the and Gray and other well-known men.

The argument was opened by Mr. Zach Montgomery in behalf of the appellant, Sheriff Cunningham, from whose jurisdic-tion Nagle was discharged on a writ of habeas corpus issued by the United States Court. The writ of habeas corpus ordering the discharge of Nagle was based on the ground that he was an officer of the United States, a deputy marshal, engaged in the performance of his duty of protecting a Justice of the United States Supreme Court, a finger on them. The colored officer was and that he could not, therefore, be imprisoned by the State authorities.

A QUESTION OF JURISDICTION. Mr. Montgomery, in beginning his argu- incidents, ment, said that it was the contention of the State authorities that the sole question before the court was a jurisdictional one, and therefore that all question of Nagle's guilt or innocence was irrelevant. If he were absolutely certain that the court agreed with him upon this point he would pass the circumstances connected with the affair by without comment; but, as the lower court had made this a part of the record, he would review the leading points in this evidence.

Taking up the legal question at issue, Mr. Montgomery maintained that unless there was specific statutory authority for the incide, necessary for the protection of Justice Field, then there need be no fear that the

The proposition advanced on the part of the State was a heresy as old ed by the legislative department that had been used before the Civil War to deny the power of the Government to coerce the seceding States.

A JUDICIAL INTERBUPTION. Justice Bradley interrupted the Attorney General in the course of his remarks with the question: "With what force shall the President execute this power of protection of which you speak, supposing that the Marshal had not sufficient force for the pur-

Mr. Joseph Choate, of New York, who followed the Attorney General as one of the counsel for the Government, opened his argument with the statement that ever since the beginning of the Government the people of the United States had rested in the conviction that they constituted a nation; that within its limits the Government was sovereign and supreme; and that it had within itself all the powers and facilities to fulfill its own functions and accomplish its own purposes. For the first time in a hundred years, the people were now met with the startling contention that a Justice of the highest court of the land was not entitled to the protection of the Government in going from one place to another on his circuit. Mr. Choate had not concluded his argument when the Commander McCalla's Disgraceful Conduct at Bermuda Recently-Washington's Birthday Celebrated by a Howling Spree-An Ancient Incident.

WASHINGTON, March 4. - Commander McCalla, of the Enterprise, who is accused of cruelty to members of his crew, will be tried by court-martial beyond a shadow of doubt. Several years ago, while in command of the Powhattan, he had quite a number of officers on board as his guests. When they intimated they would like to go ashore he presented them with a mess bill at the rate of $1 50 per day each. They refused to pay it and he held their baggage until the debt was liquidated.

Advices from Bermuda are to the effect that McCalla and three of his officers cele-brated Washington's Birthday by a howl-ing spree, which lasted several days. After getting drunk they called a carriage, and the Commander made his way to the front seat beside the driver, and insisted upon taking the reins. The colored driver pro-tested, but to no purpose. "You black scoundrel, I have 180 men under me on my ship, and do you suppose I am going to be dictated to by a nigger?" was the Comnander's reply.

Going down the steep hill in front of the hotel the naval driver twice nearly over-turned the vehicle, and the protests of the driver and the shouts of the party made such a commotion that "Fred," the boss of the hotel stables, ran out of his building in the street below and caught the horses by the bits. This was the signal for a grand free fight in the streets of quiet old Hamiltonor as near a fight as the exhausted condition of the naval officers would permit.

The officers, still full of the enthusiasm of Washington's Birthday, insisted upon singthe hall, where Sunday evening services were then in progress, they were so noisy that they ran into the arms of a Hamilton policeman. Legally at least, they ran into his arms, though as a matter of fact he rather ran into their arms, for on his attempt to arrest them, the four officers, by this time slightly rested, sprang at him, and promised to wipe up the entire length of Queen street with him if he ventured to lay overawed by superior force, particularly when the officers told him of people they had "licked" in Malta, Gibraltar and other places. This was only one of many similar
